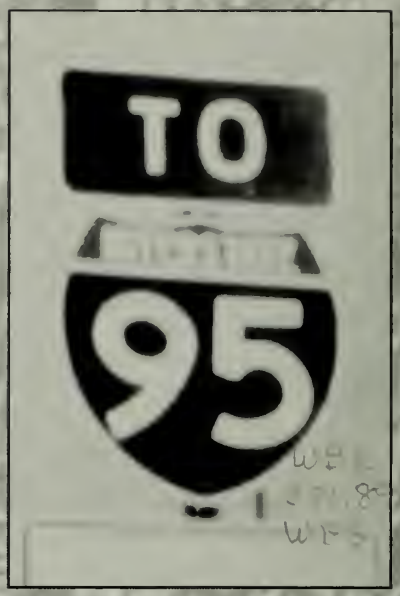
FROM THE EDITORS. . .

Hoping to establish a tradition, as editors of this year's Lion's Roar, we decided once again to present a theme. We chose "Life is a Highway" and strove to carry that theme throughout the entire book. Eight pages have been added to last year's total of one hundred and twenty so that each section could be more thorough. The staff has put countless hours of hard work into the creation of this book and has had fun doing it. We hope that you will enjoy reading it as much as we have enjoyed putting it together.

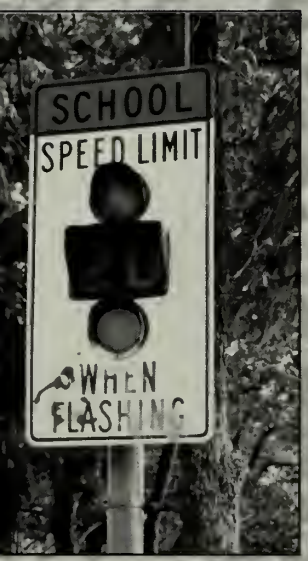
Sincerely,

Jessica B. Lowell & Brittany A. Sawdon



"LIFE IS A HIGHWAY"

The 1995 Yearbook staff chose the theme "Life is a Highway" for this book because our education together has been like a journey. Although we have all shared a common road in the past, we now have the opportunity to choose our own separate paths as we strive to attain our individual goals. The staff hopes that the class of 1995 will always remember the common road that has kept us together throughout the years.



Dedication

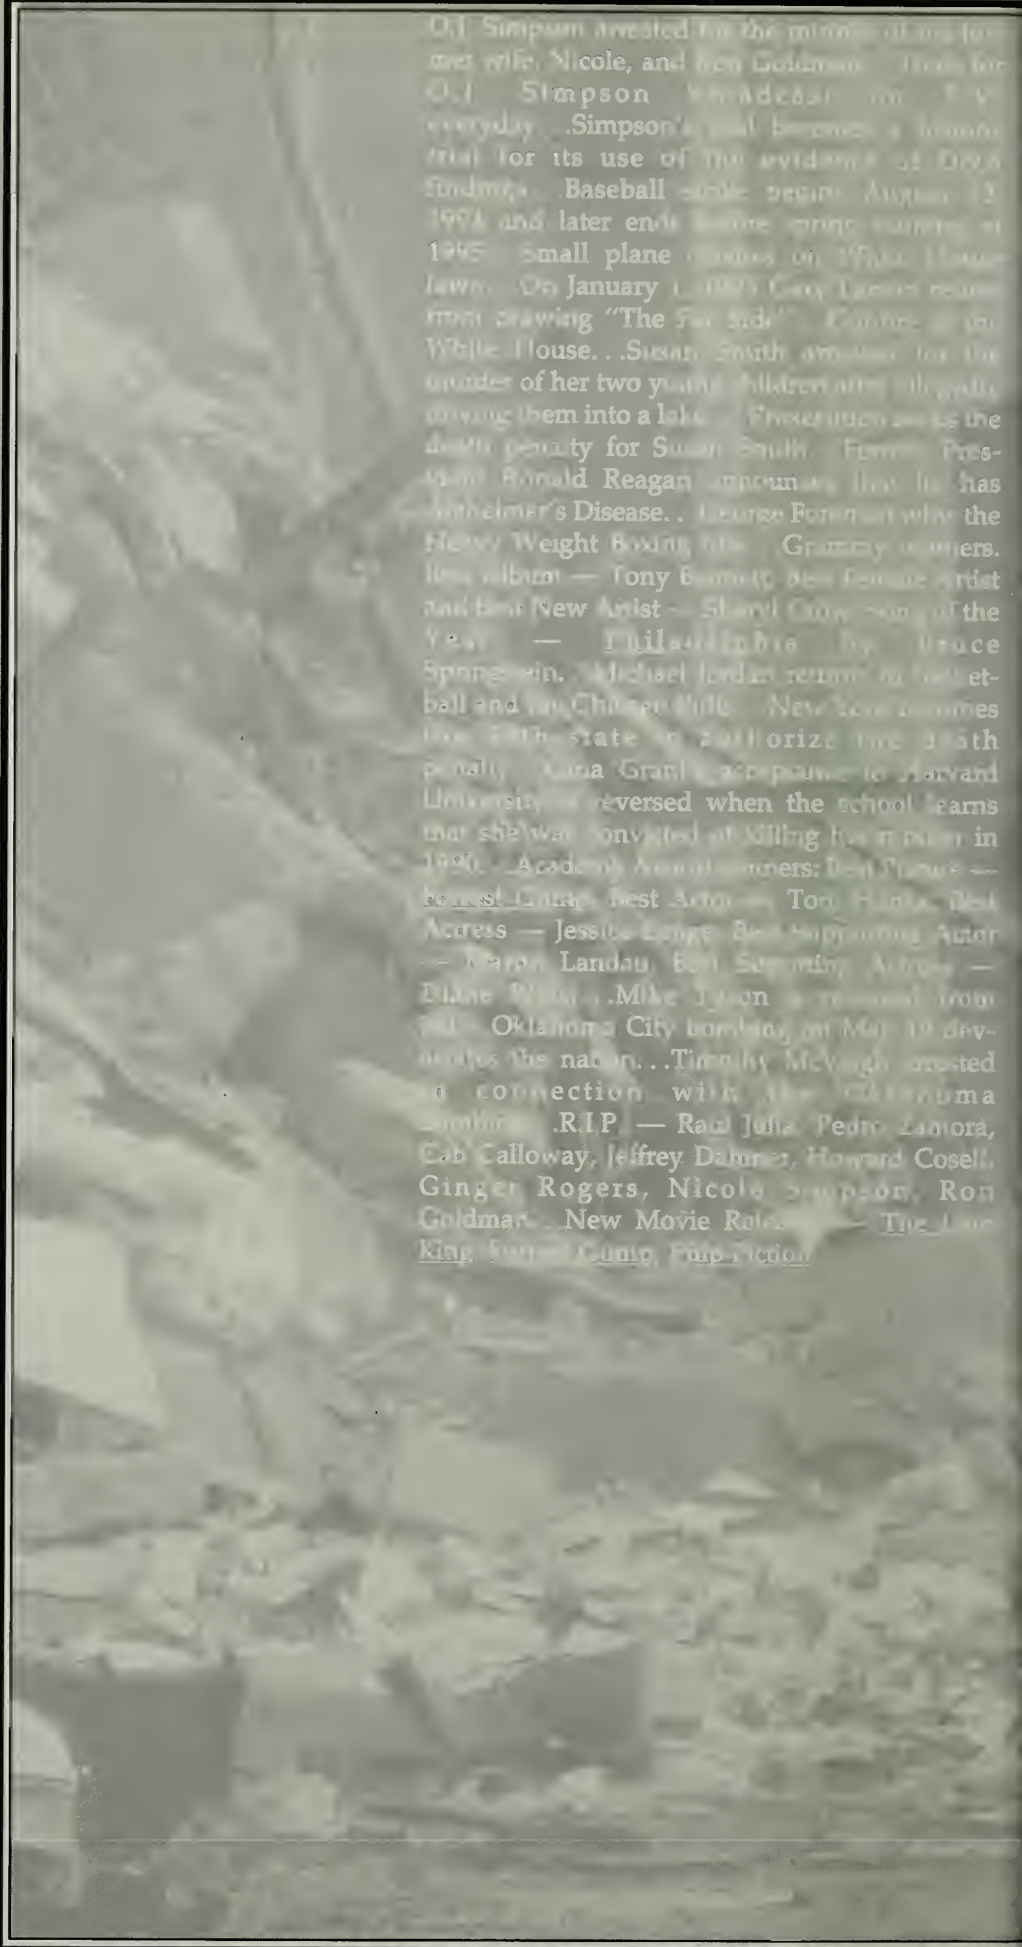
The class of 1995 is proud to dedicate this year's edition of the Lion's Roar to a person who we feel exemplifies hard work and devotion to education. . . our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Leo Sullivan.

Mr. Sullivan, whose number one priority is the students, has been the voice of education in West Boylston since 1981. Most recently, he has played a key role in engineering the building renovation plans for both the elementary and middle/high school. He has also helped to enact the mandates of the education bill.

Mr. Sullivan stands out as a superintendent because of his involvement in many activities at school. He has been seen flipping pancakes at the Honors Breakfast and enjoying various student musical and dramatic performances. In addition, he has chaperoned the sixth grade Nature's Classroom trips every year and has traveled with the band and chorus on their trip to Florida.

Students have found Mr. Sullivan to be very approachable because of his obvious commitment to our school. We would like to thank him for his dedication to our school system, for he has truly made a difference.

YEAR IN REVIEW



SPECIAL THANKS

The Yearbook staff and the Class of 1995 extend their appreciation to the people and organizations that have made our senior year events possible.

Thirty-one years ago, Mr. Moynihan began teaching mathematics at West Boylston High School. He will be leaving the school soon, but we thank him for his years of service and dedication to the students at West Boylston. We also thank Mr. Foley, a truly dedicated teacher who has not only taught Social Studies for many years, but he has also coached the Varsity Golf Team.

The Senior Class also appreciates its advisors, Mr. LeBlanc and Mr. Keeney. With strong spirits, they have helped us organize class functions, and they have guided us through a wonderful four years.

We also thank Mrs. Tetler, the Yearbook Advisor, whose zany personality has gotten the staff through tough deadlines. We will miss her next year.

The class extends its thanks to Mrs. Roy and Mrs. Doherty, the teachers who organized our graduation, and to Mrs. Johnson, who coordinated our class song. Finally, we thank Hilton Photography, Taylor Publishing, and each of the financial sponsors of our book sections, including the West Boylston Athletic Association, the National Art Honor Society, the WBHS Music Department, the Parent Teacher Support Group, the West Boylston Teachers Association, and the Senior Class.

It was a Time to Remember

Brittany Sawdon and her hard-working committee created a Prom that was truly in keeping with its theme, a "Time to Remember." Who could ever forget the guys down on one knee, belting out, "You've lost that loving feeling"? Towards the end of the evening, the time came near to choose the Prom King and Queen. The girls and guys showed their stuff, and after much deliberation Sam Flink and Joe Levins were chosen as the royal couple. The other members of the court were Julie Garvey, Kristina Wolons, Diana Ferguson, Bonnie Fedele, Kristina Folckemer and Melissa O'Connor. As the night came to a close, people reluctantly packed up their picture frames and memory books and bade farewell to the Prom of 1994.

The whole school caught

Jungle Fever

When the student council started planning Homecoming 1994 last June, the students wanted a unique theme. They introduced several ideas, but they finally decided on "Jungle Fever." Working throughout the summer, they created a week that was full of jungle activities, including everything from exchanging bananas in "peel the banana" to belting out an authentic tarzan yell.

The week began with Rainforest Day, when everyone dressed in their rain gear despite the beautiful sunny day. Mr. McGrail wore a bright yellow slicker. On Tuesday, the students entered the school as jungle animals, including a variety of cats, birds, and even a few elephants. Wednesday came as a surprise to the entire student body. The juniors banned together to show their spirit by wearing yellow shirts specially designed and printed for the occasion. After school, the seniors united and were proud to come in third instead of coming in the predicted last place. The next day, Thursday, students came to school dressed in tropical skirts, hats, leis, and even a fruit bowl. At 2:05, everyone gathered for the traditional decorating of the gym. After the deliberation of the judges, it was announced that the freshman won the contest. However, at the end of the week, the seniors showed that they were truly "red hot" in their spirit. They gained the most points, and, in a repeat of their freshman year, won Homecoming Week.

Seniors prove that they are Red Hot

The student body was pleasantly surprised at this year's Homecoming pep rally. Following the traditional introduction of the fall sports teams, a new lion danced into the gym. Entertaining the crowd, the lion cheered with the cheerleaders and danced to the music of the pep band. After a head hunter chased Melissa through the gymnasium, the band led everyone in the "West Boylston Fight Song." Showing their football spirit, the seniors and the sophomores took on the juniors and freshmen in a football game while wearing of flippers, raincoats, and grass skirts. The cheerleaders then performed their half-time dance. After Mr. Priestley gave a pep talk, Mrs. Hudson announced the student Homecoming court and crowned Mr. LeBlanc and Mrs. Scarlett king and queen of the teacher court. The pep rally ended as each person cheered for his class as the cheerleaders sang "The Whole School."

The Lion Sleeps Tonight

This year's Homecoming Court included Keith Kerr, Michael Fair, David Liberis, Michael Mulryan, Joel Roberts, Brandon Peterson, Elizabeth Hanscom, Molly Sullivan, Kelly Quinn, Doug Lancette, Amy Bianchini, Callie Curran, Jamie Mulryan, and Elizabeth Homme. Seniors Aaron White and Beth Noonan were crowned Homecoming King and Queen at the dance.

We're off to see the Wizard

The senior play the Wizard of Oz turned out to be a great success. The drama department pulled together a cast of over sixty students in an effort to create an outstanding play. Starring as Dorothy, Brittany Sawdon dazzled the audience with her beautiful voice in "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and her excellent acting abilities. As the play progressed, the Scarecrow, Tin Woodman, and Cowardly Lion added to the enchantment of the play as they journeyed to the Emerald City to meet the Wizard of Oz. Over thirty munchkins danced and sang in songs like "Follow the Yellow Brick Road" and "You're Off the See the Wizard." Both Kristen Hennessey, the student director as well as the Wicked Witch of the West, and Mr. White, our teacher director, put their hearts into making the Wizard of Oz a successful show.

As this year's student director of the senior play, Kristen Hennessey took on the task of creating a show with one of the largest casts ever to perform in the school. Thank you, Kristen, for your energy, enthusiasm, and devotion that pulled us together and made the Wizard of Oz a successful play.

The twenty-first annual Class Play Competitions

On April 28th the Student Council held the annual play comps. The juniors began with a comedy, "Uninvited Ghost," a play full of surprises. The sophomores then presented a clever black and white play, "Beyond the Door." The freshman chose a play that had never been done before, "Once Upon a Playground." Lastly, the seniors charmed the audience with "It's Cold in Them Thar Hills," a comedy about hillbilly parents trying to find a husband for their unkept daughter. Each class worked hard, but the seniors were selected winners of the play competitions.

After months of preparation the night finally arrived. The hard-working prom committee was disappointed when, once again, prom-goers were cursed with rain; however, this didn't affect the enchantment of the evening. Prom '95 was held at Tower Hills Botanic Gardens where the students danced the night away. While the Juniors circled around the dance floor, the court was chosen. Liz Homme announced Callie Curran was the Queen. After the rest of the court was announced, Matt Clark was crowned Prom King. Memories were kept in the memory books that the students took home at the end of the night.

The Senior Class Trip

On Wednesday, May 31, the class of 1995 broke a long-standing tradition by going to a new place for their class trip — High Meadows in Granby, Connecticut. It was a beautiful, warm spring day, perfect for the numerous outdoor activities. Students entered and won ribbons in pool races, sports contests, field events, and lip sync and dancing contests. Others relaxed by the pool, went horseback riding, and played volleyball or tennis. Students were able to quench their thirsts and fill their stomachs whenever they wanted to, for food and beverages were provided all day. Mr. LeBlanc proved to be a great fan while Mr. Keeney led the class in a crazy dance at the end of the day. The seniors had a wonderful time and returned to West Boylston with great memories.

The Seniors attend the Baccalaureate

For the class of 1995, the Baccalaureate was a sentimental evening that began when the seniors marched into the auditorium to Amazing Grace, led by Mr. Lou Lavoie. The members and parents of the class listened as several students gave gospel and scripture readings. Many students read poems, while two people gave speeches that reflected on the past. A group of students, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Been, sang Friend To Friend and On the Loose, a song from Nature's Classroom. Mr. LeBlanc then showed a video that consisted of pictures of the seniors through the years. Mr. Keeney spoke about the class of 1995, surprising everyone with his version of the song Day By Day. After Brittany Sawdon sang, Melissa O'Connor gave a touching dedication to the parents. Students then presented roses to their parents. Mr. Lavoie ended the emotional night by leading the audience in singing On Eagles' Wings.

Senior class president, Elizabeth Hanscom, opened the graduation ceremony on June 2,1995 with an address of welcome that emphasized optimism. The class presented its advisors, Mr. Keeney and Mr. LeBlanc, with gifts to show their appreciation for their hard work during the last four years. The yearbook staff then announced the dedication of the yearbook to our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Leo Sullivan.

Three students gave speeches, beginning with the class Salutatorian, Aaron Davis, who spoke about the future in his speech, "I am not afraid of tomorrow." Honors Speaker, Julie Garvey, gave a speech entitled "For I have seen yesterday" before introducing Brittany Sawdon, the class Valedictorian. Her speech called "And I love today" discussed the importance of enjoying the present. Mrs. Grace Johnson then led the seniors in the class song, I Wish You Well, My Friend as Jen Arnieri accompanied on the piano. Principal Francine Bullock addressed the class next with a speech regarding the necessity of education for the future. After Mrs. Bullock presented the awards and scholarships, Mr. Peter Desy, Chairman of the School Committee, spoke about the importance of the phrase, "Just Do It." Finally, Mr. Sullivan presented each senior with a diploma. As the ceremony ended, the seniors marched out of the gym, separating for the final time.

Football

The Lion's football team, coached by Richard Preistly, had an exciting season this year. They played well throughout the Fall, but ended with a 3 and 7 record. After the Thanksgiving Day win over the Grafton Indians, awards were given to James Lamprey - best defensive player and Keith Bianchini — best offensive player. Timothy Sears recieved the George C. Cook award. Captains were chosen near the end of the season. They were Tim Sears and Ian Roberts. Jim Lamprey was choosen as an alternate captain. Prior to this time all of the seven seniors acted as the captains. The graduating seniors are Tim Sears, Dustin Peterson, Ian Roberts, Ian Davis, Joe Levins, Keith Desy, and James Lamprey. Overall the season was considered, by the players, to be fun and enjoyable.

Girls' Soccer

The girls' soccer team had yet another coach this year, Pete Luchesi. The girls worked hard while competing with their Dual Valley opponents. Beth Noonan, Melissa Richards, and Elizabeth Hanscom, the tri-captains, led the team through their excellent season. In their last match, with Bromfield, the girls held the undefeated Bromfield to a 1-0 lead, a moral victory for West Boylston. the two goalkeepers, Melissa Hanscom and Erin Dupuis, worked hard in goal. The underclassmen look forward to next year's season. Robin Gordon and Nancy Hubbard, two key defense players, were selected to be Dual Valley Allstars.

Boys' Basketball

The boys' basketball team had a phenomenal season this year. Not only did they finish with a winning record, but they also qualified for the Districts for the first time in thirteen years. Keith Kerr and Jay Valentine were the co-captains. New-comer, Mario Horton, was a great asset to the team. He pulled down many rebounds and was the team's lead-scorer. Horton was the second leading scorer in the League and Valentine was also in the top ten. In the District tournament, the boys fought hard for their 51-50 win over Groton Dunstable. They advanced to the quarter-finals where they met undefeated Sutton. Even though West Boylston did not win this game, the boys put up a good fight and were happy with their success during the season. Coach Paul Constantino did his best toinspire the boys.

Girls' Basketball

Being a little more experienced, this year's girls' basketball team roared to the first round of the Districts, coached by Richard Priestly. Senior co-captains Melissa Richards and Elizabeth Hanscom were a part of the Lady Lions' Division III District Champs teams in the 91-92 and the 92-93 seasons. This year Richards and Hanscom led the team to a 9-9 record. Just making it to the Districts was all they could ask for from such a young team. Important to the effort were graduating Kristina Wolons and Jennifer Arnieri, who pitched in a helping hand from the bench, and, sophomores Jamie Mulryan, Danielle Wilson, and Becky Rotti. Melissa Hanscom, a freshman, surprised everyone with her ability. This was a learning experience for the underclassmen that will hopefully lead them to success in the future and a memorable season for the Seniors.

Baseball

Even though the baseball team did not have a winning season, the players improved a great deal throughout the season. Led by captains, Bob Richardson and Brendan Leith, and Coach Bianchini, the Lions feel that there were a lot of games they should have won; out of the five extra inning games played, the Lions only won one. Pat Hennessey led the team with a .383 batting average, and Bob Richardson was selected as a Dual Valley All-Star. Chris Shea was the catcher for the Lions. Since the Lions started to play well towards the end of the season, the players hope this performance will continue next year.

Softball

After losing five seniors, the Varsity Softball players spent the 1995 season rebuilding their team. Senior captain, Kristina Folckemer, and junior captains, Emily Lehman and Jessica Recko, led the team through the season with an overall record of five wins and fifteen losses. Sam Flink was the main pitcher, but the younger relief pitchers received the opportunity to prove themselves on the mound toward the end of the season. Emily Lehman and sophomore, Danielle Wilson, were chosen as Dual Valley League All-Stars. The softball players worked hard, and most of them will return next year.

This year's team will lose eight seniors: A. Davis, J. Garvey, B. Noonan, M. Richards, M. Parker, S. Scales, and B. Wiberg. Each teammate worked hard to score points for the team while Manager R. Gordon kept score. With the help of Coaches Richard Priestley and David Keeney, the team, which consists of many underclassmen, will improve next year.

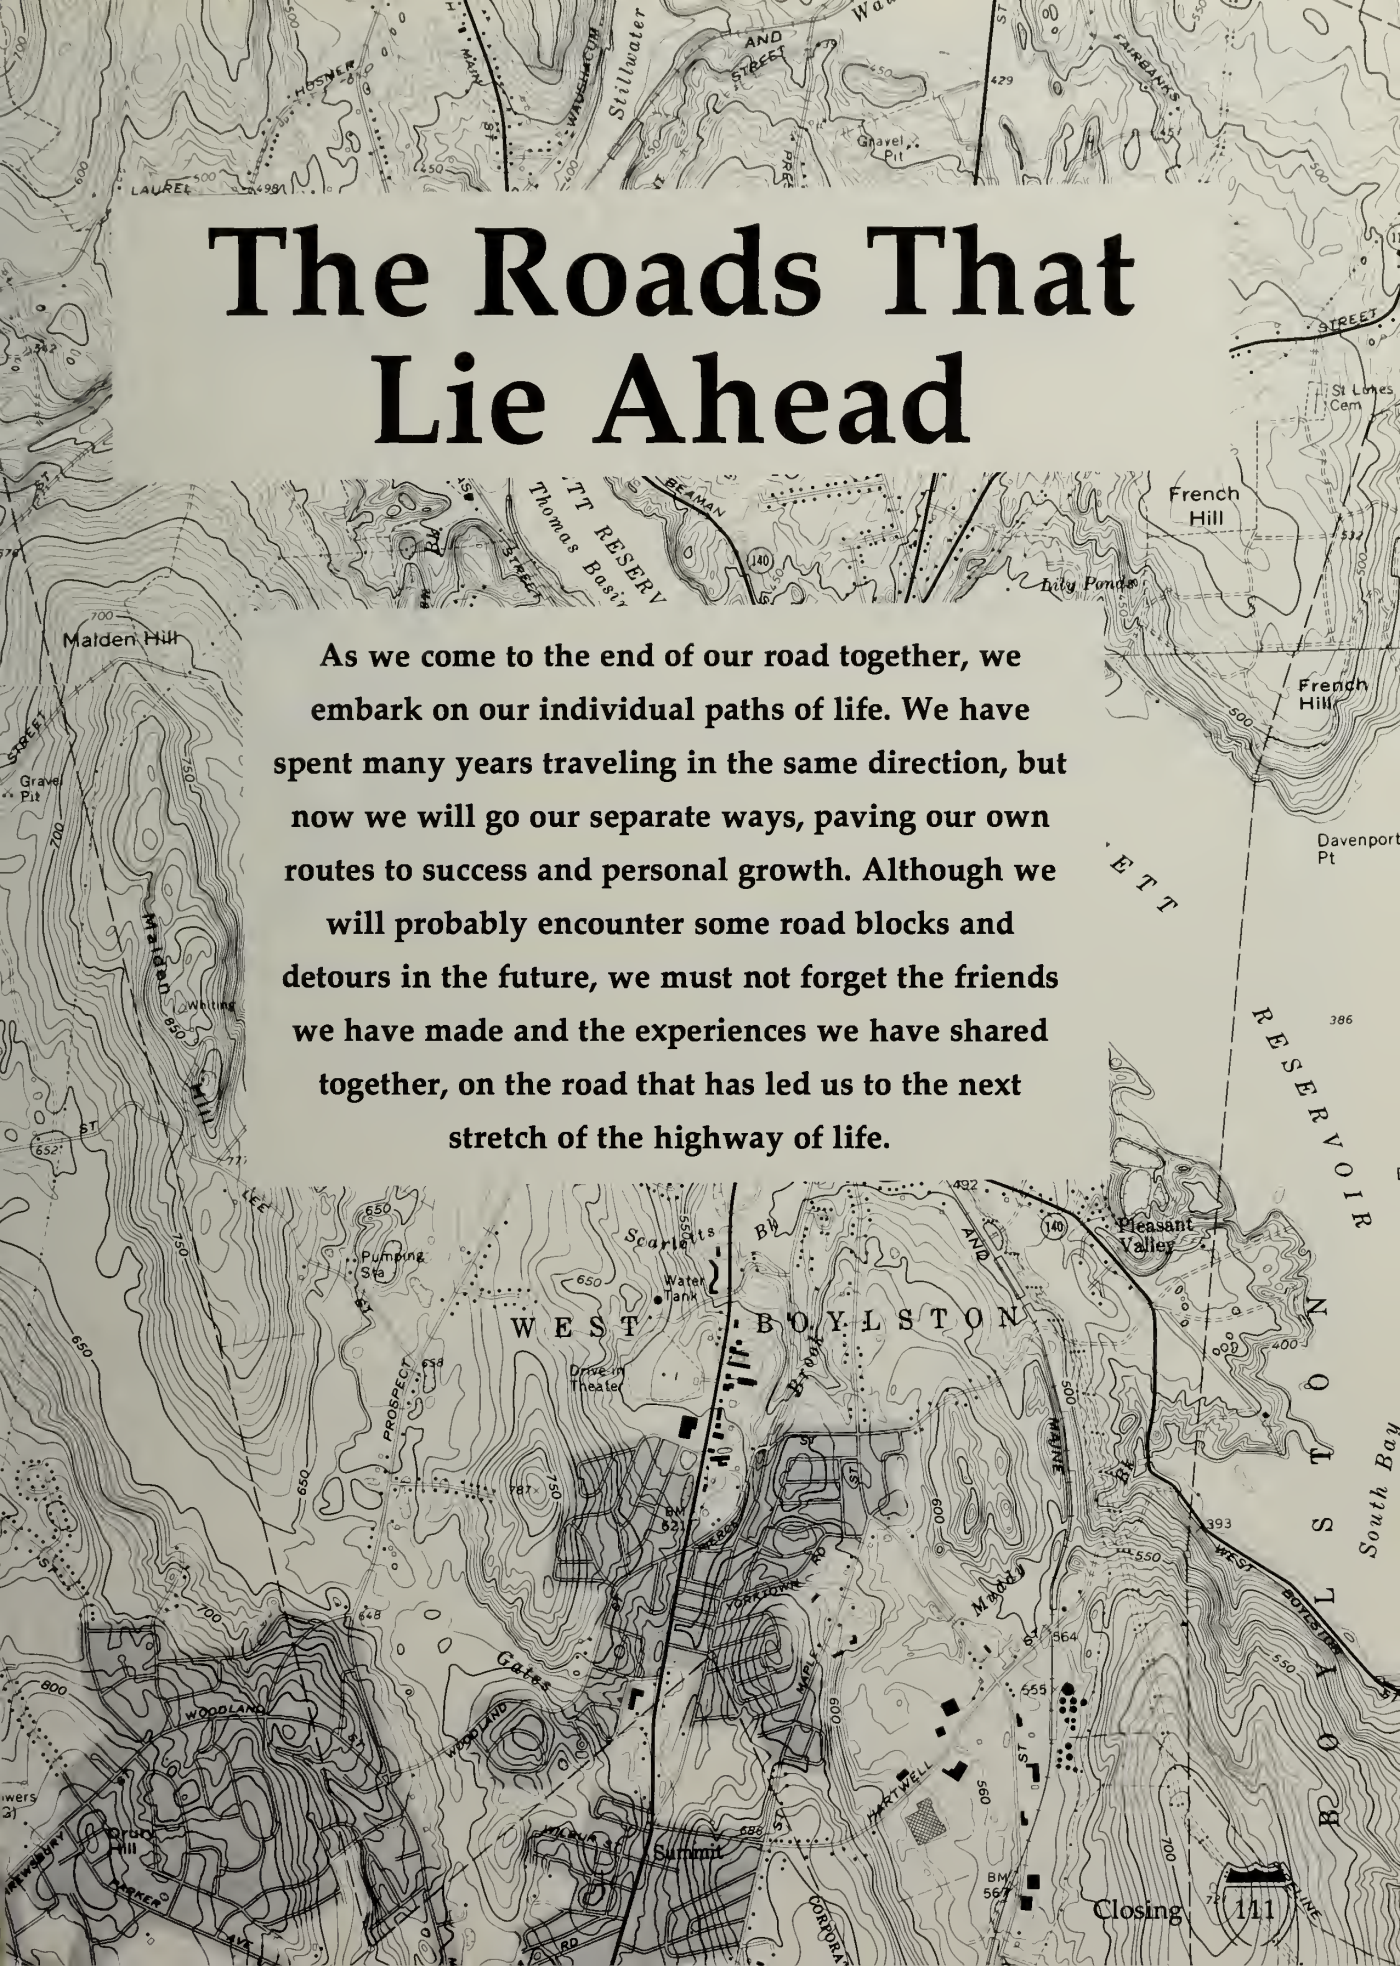
The Roads That Lie Ahead



As we come to the end of our road together, we embark on our individual paths of life. We have spent many years traveling in the same direction, but now we will go our separate ways, paving our own routes to success and personal growth. Although we will probably encounter some road blocks and detours in the future, we must not forget the friends we have made and the experiences we have shared together, on the road that has led us to the next stretch of the highway of life.
